Butler County Man Elected Cotton Producers President

The 21st meeting of the Missouri Cotton Producers Association brought out more than 350 cotton producers and guests at the Armory Saturday night, to bolster a last minute stand to aid cotton raisers in quest of a stable market and increased price support.

On hand to outline problems was Congressman Thomas Abernethy, of Mississippi's first district. Kenneth Frick, administrator, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Washington, D. C., spoke Saturday afternoon.

Abernethy said: "If Congress can vote four and one-half billion dollars in short order to feed the poor of the nation it could well afford to add a few percentage points to clothe the needy persons of this nation."

New officers elected at the Ramada Inn at the afternoon session were Frank Nentrup, president, Butler county; Pat Burdison, first vice president, Dunklin county; A. L. Story Jr., second vice president, Mississippi county; Hutan Goza, third vice president, Stoddard county; K. M. Streeter, fourth vice president, Stoddard county;

James Stoffer, fifth vice president, New Madrid county, and James N. Conner, Kennett, reelected executive vice president.

Nentrup succeeds Jack Tipton of Caruthersville.

Frick, who spoke on "Cotton Policy," said:

"There will not be another year like last year, when only two and one-half million bales were exported. The carryover of five and one-half million bales is lowest since 1955, but if the program is to become effective producers must lower the costs of production, as well as handling costs. I find it costs $60 a bale to the buyer and not one cent of the increase goes into the pocket of the producer."

"Freight handling, bagging and sampling sometimes runs three times higher than in former years. Foreign bales come in better condition than ours to the market. Manufacturers of synthetic materials do not have antiquated methods. A ginner can't operate 10 weeks a year and be successful."

"These are changing times. At one time we were using 75 per cent cotton in our shirts."

Today it is 35 per cent. The future market calls for 200 million bales fiber in the world market, and to get a fair share of the market the competition must be met. All payment limitations must be worked out fairly.

Miss Kathryn Clark entertained at the organ during the banquet.

Two service awards were presented. Charles B. Baker, Dunklin county, received a plaque, for his service over the years. He is the first president of the association. Tipton received a plaque for services as president.

Southeast Missouri county winners in the Sew With Cotton Contest were presented at the banquet with Mrs. Dale Geske, Canolou, narrator.

"I am not worried about surpluses in our nation," Abernethy said. "Wouldn't Russia and China like to have a surplus? I'm a strong believer in farm supports, home owners, scientific projects and extension services, electricity and water systems. Even at the high cost, only 17 per cent of our dollar goes for food and clothing."

Symington Releases Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is reported escalating the clandestine war in Laos while attempting to scale down the conflict in Vietnam, Senate testimony has revealed.

About 200 Americans were killed in the Laotian conflict from 1954-69, the testimony disclosed, and approximately 200 more Americans are listed as missing or prisoners of war.

The figures compare with recent White House announcements that less than 50 Americans died in Laos in ground combat operations and less than 300 had been killed in air operations over the nation.

The extent of the U.S. involvement in the Southeast Asian nation came to light Sunday when Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., released the heavily censored transcript of Senate foreign relations subcommittee hearings into American involvement in Laos. The hearings were conducted last October.

As for the White House figure that less than 50 Americans had died in Laos, Symington said, "In this case the White House did not have the best information."

Col. Robert L. F. Tyrell, chief U.S. air attaché in Laos, testified the U.S. air strikes in Laos were increased "roughly 100 per cent" as a result of a request for a heavy stepup in air support from Laotian forces headed by Gen. Vang Pao.

Symington said the "figures which Col. Tyrell shows emphasize there has been a heavy escalation of our military effort in Laos."

Escalation of the Laotian war came after the U.S. halted the bombing of North Vietnam in the fall of 1968, the testimony says.

About 150 of the approximately 200 Americans killed in Laos were slain based in Thailand or aboard U.S. Navy carriers, testimony revealed. The remainder were described as U.S. civilians and servicemen based in Laos.

No clear estimate was made of the cost of the U.S. involvement in Laos. But the Defense Department did submit the following statement:

"The total cost of all U.S. activities in Laos including air operations against the Ho Chi Minh trail is about (deleted) billion a year. Of this approximately, (deleted) billion is related directly to our efforts in South Vietnam."

Grand Jury May Probe Collections

Another avenue of investigation may be opened into the operations of the Scott county collector's office, which was reported to have been robbed by an armed bandit the night of Dec. 8.

An official source disclosed this morning Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore has thought about requesting Circuit Judge Marshall Craig to call a grand jury to probe into the matter.

There have been questions in law enforcement officers' minds whether an armed robbery occurred. J. W. "Dub" Shuffitt, then deputy collector, reported he was robbed late at night by a lone Negro gunman.

Shuffitt was alone in the courthouse.

Sheriff John Dennis reported this morning he hasn't received a figure from Shuffitt about the sum which could have been taken.

Aubrey Michael, collector, resigned following the incident. Shuffitt no longer works in the office.

Officials are awaiting the completion of an audit of the collector's office for 1969. Andy Keithley, crew chief of fieldmen for State Auditor Haskell Holman, was contacted in Benton this morning regarding an audit completion date.

He refused comment.

It was later confirmed in Jefferson City Keithley's crew has completed its field examination and the report has been in Holman's office for a week or more.

The audit report can be expected in about a month, according to Holman.

On Feb. 26 Gilmore filed suit against Michael to recover $68,838.41 in county funds. Michael and three of his bonding companies were scheduled to appear in circuit court Friday.

The case was continued pending completion of the 1969 audit.

The $68,838.41, according to a state audit, is a shortage of funds for 1965-69. Penalties and fees for those years could raise the amount owed by Michael above $100,000.

A benefit of a grand jury probe exists when there is an area where prosecution does not have all the facts. Persons involved in a suspected case can

Nixon to Outline His Approach to Further Withdrawals of Troops

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon will outline his approach to further U.S. troop withdrawals from South Vietnam in a television-radio address tonight and perhaps unveil a surprise or two.

Nixon will speak at 9 p.m. EST.

Sources at the Western White House cautioned today against advance speculation that Nixon would announce a successor to Henry Cabot Lodge as chief American peace negotiator in Paris. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated earlier in the month that such an announcement might be imminent.

At the same time, these sources did not rule out the apparent likelihood that Nixon, in what is billed as a 10- to 15-minute "update report" to the nation, would go beyond mere discussion of troop levels and break new ground in presidential discussion of the Southeast Asian situation.

Since Nixon last took to the airwaves to discuss the Vietnam war, last Dec. 15, the conflict has broadened, particularly in Cambodia which seeks U.S. arms following a coup that overthrew the neutralist government of prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Through Ziegler, the United States has deplored reported Cambodian massacres of Vietnamese living in that tiny country. And the State Department has said the arms request is under study.

The Nixon administration also has taken an interest in a statement last week by Jacob A. Malik, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, that indicated possible interest from that quarter in a new Geneva conference to take up the entire Indochina situation. However, Malik told ABC-TV News Saturday that "convening such a conference is unrealistic at the present time."

U. S. troop levels in South Vietnam last week were put at 428,000 or 5,800 below the last announced authorized ceiling. Nixon was expected to announce plans for a four-phase withdrawal of the around 50,000 additional men, although perhaps stretching out the movement over a longer period than the four months that saw the latest withdrawal of 55,000.

The gradual reduction in U.S. armed strength in the war zone began last June, ending about four years of steady escalation.

Nixon flew to his California villa late Sunday from Honolulu, where he greeted the three Apollo 13 astronauts Saturday on their return to the United States. He honored the space heroes with the Medal of Freedom, the

Three Funnel Clouds Sighted, Trailers Hit

Three tornadoes were sighted late yesterday afternoon, one near Charleston, another east of Benton, Kelso and Scott City. And another at Miner.

The highway patrol said the funnel cloud near Charleston touched down in open fields in a few places at approximately 5 p.m. but there was no damage.

At approximately 5:30 p.m. a tornado was sighted passing over Ferrell Trailer Court two miles east of Benton but no damage was reported.

Buck Presley, of Presley Trailer Sales, on the east side of Miner, reported to police at 5:20 p.m. yesterday that "definitely a funnel cloud" damaged one dozen trailers.

He said the trailers were picked up and slammed into others and that customer's cars also were damaged.

The weather bureau reported that farm buildings south of Scott City were damaged by high winds.

A total of 3.05 inches of rain accumulated Sunday, from 1 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. in Sikeston,

Hearnes Axes 3 Programs, Cuts Capital Improvements

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes eliminated three state programs entirely and cut capital improvement requests from $159 million to $3.8 million in his 1970-71 budget distributed today.

Neither operating nor building funds were granted to the new land survey authority created by the 1969 legislature and still not in operation. The request to get started was $148,065.

Funds for the poultry and fruit experiment stations at Mountain Grove were eliminated entirely. The poultry station asked $278,821 in operating funds and the fruit station sought $235,267.

Most state agencies got the same or less than they received this year in the governor's recommendations to the special session which opened last Wednesday. Detailed budget figures were not available before today.

Biggest cuts came in capital improvements as the governor held his recommendations to the bare minimum. Only essential repairs were approved in most cases.

The total capital request, including federal and other funds, was $190.6 million. The governor slashed that to $17.2 million.

The $6.8 million to build a new maximum security prison and $3 million for a maximum security facility for juveniles were eliminated entirely. The last special session in January authorized money to buy a site for a maximum security prison and start developing it.

The University of Missouri for all its campuses asked for $44.3 million but got only $5,750,000 including $4.5 million to rebuild a chemistry and some money if we were as chemical engineering building at Rolla which burned last year. Other state colleges and hospitals were allowed only

The state fair at Sedalia asked for $4 million for buildings but the governor recommended only $53,000.

Ellis Fischel Cancer Hospital at Columbia sought $10.6 million. The governor allowed $25,000.

The State Park Board asked for $6.4 million from general revenue but got nothing. Some allotments from revenue bond and other funds were allowed.

Operating funds for state agencies generally were held at existing levels.

The governor presented his budget to the legislature on the theory that the people spoke out against any tax increase in defeating the $106 million income tax proposal April 7, and therefore the state would have to live within its revenue from present sources with no new taxes.

The campaign by agencies and institutions for full requests began almost immediately today before the House Appropriations Committee.

It was highlighted by the Department of Education's request for the full amount promised for the coming school year in state aid — $269 million. The governor had reduced that to $215,633,564, reflecting the failure of the income tax revision bill, he said. Repeatedly, he has told Missourians failure of the income tax would mean a $54 million reduction in school aid under the foundation program, no matter what the legislature promised last year.

Hubert Wheeler, state commissioner of education told the committee under questioning his department was asking for the full amount promised.

Rep. Robert H. Frost, D-Plattsburg, told Wheeler the schools did have one break other state institutions did not have. They could raise local property taxes levies to get the amount missing. Entrance was gained through the front window.

Wheeler said that 117 state institutions did not have diamond rings, 14 assorted watches, and 85 stone rings were tax levies to get the amount missing. Entrance was gained through the front window.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Have you noticed trying to keep a good man down is about as hard as trying to keep a good-for-nothing one up.

ON LEARNING ABOUT LIFE

On occasion we spot a ray of hope beaming from amidst the murky clouds of immorality, drugs, dropouts and general alienation that seems to darken the lives of too many youth in our society. One sage has predicted that because of the permissive behavior of modern youths, they will, when they attain maturity, turn out to be among the most strict parental generations in recent history. We hope that this turns out to be the case; and there are some signs to indicate that maybe he is right.

In the March 23rd edition of the National Observer, there was a report on a visit to a so-called "commune" in the State of Washington. The reporter was greeted at the door of the most elaborate house in the commune by a very nude young man. They entered the living room for the interview, where they were joined by the wife, also stark naked.

During the discussion the young couple displayed the typical, and predictable, "anti-establishment" motivations. They claimed to be both anti-capitalist and anti-communist; they just don't want to live under any authority of any kind.

But the most interesting - and we believe, significant - part of the reported conversation was the fact that many of the things that society has learned over the years to be best for all, are now being "discovered" by the commune residents.

They confessed to the reporter that their experimental ventures into mate swapping and "group marriages" had failed. "Monogamy seems to create the least amount of tensions and provides more stability for raising children" is the way one resident put it. Now, isn't that a remarkable "discovery" for a college graduate?

On the theory of sharing all: a female resident told of the utter and complete failure of the system. "True communal life just didn't work out," she said. "Everyone contributed according to his ability, all right; but those who had less ability seemed to have more needs." She noted that a worker would chop firewood to heat the house - and a drone would leave all the doors open.

On drugs; addicts with drugs invaded the commune a while back and didn't work at all. Now some of the residents will not even take aspirin or coffee, much less liquor.

Well, maybe from a coldly scientific view such "communal" life is instructional. We'll be ready to believe it when they begin to wear clothing when greeting guests at their door.

Mr. Wallace R. Burke, Interstate Commerce Commissioner, remarked: "The transport system of this nation is not perfect, but it is the best system that exists anywhere in the world. Our network carries more goods of more kinds... and does it better than any other transportation system in the world."

"Faithful Reader" (he or she pairs admirably with "Constant Reader") reports on a recent visit to Mexico, and finds himself asking about the origin of firecrackers at Christmas, particularly in the South.

He just returned from the holiday season in a town in Southern Mexico, and he says he never saw or heard the like of crackers, sparklers, Roman candles, and even guns of artillery caliber.

He even bought some and joined in the sport, to relive his boyhood, and asks:

"This Mexican custom, joined to the Southern one, makes me suspect that fireworks at Christmas may have an ancient origin. Can anyone inform me? Mischief, thou art afoot!"

SOVEREIGNTY BY ANOTHER NAME

Bad enough anywhere, an oil spill in the arctic could be disastrous. Freezing temperatures would turn oil into a stiff, black gumbo. Locked into ice covering the arctic waters, spill oil would be almost impossible to clean up and could pollute the north's finely balanced ecology for centuries. Concern about arctic pollution arose last year when the U.S. oil tanker and icebreaker Manhattan became the first commercial vessel to successfully navigate the Northwest Passage - proving that oil could be shipped from the rich new fields in Alaska to the eastern U.S. market.

The voyage put Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau under heavy pressure to claim the passage as a territorial sea. This he has refused to do, believing such a move would not stand up before the international courts. But many observers believe the imposition of shipping standards in the north would give Canada the sovereignty it wants by another name. When the Manhattan sets sail for additional arctic tests - it is expected to leave New York on or around Wednesday, April 1 - it will have undergone Canadian inspection and complied with Canada's strict new shipping standards. The Humble Oil and Refining Co., chief backer of the Manhattan, takes a naturally neutral stand on the sovereignty issue. The state Department, however, does not believe Canada has a right to unilaterally impose controls on a body of water the United States believes to be international.

The American concern is easy to see. If Canada can make its sovereignty stick in a waterway outside its three-mile territorial limit, that could create a precedent that will have adverse implications for freedom of passage in other confined waters. The Canadian land mass - which is indisputably Canadian. The compromise promises to be a severe test of traditionally friendly American-Canadian relations.

It was noted by the American Farm Bureau Federation that in the United States one farmer now produces food enough for 45 people, compare to 15 in 1948.

People soon learn to dislike a pretty girl who is slouchy.

POVERTY AND CRIME

Crime has become the national preoccupation. One approach to the problem, brought out by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement more than three years ago, holds that "the foundations of a national strategy against crime is an unremitting national effort for social justice." This policy of attacking poverty as the underlying cause of crime was the basis of much of President Johnson's anti-crime legislation. The other approach, favored by the present administration, is to strengthen law enforcement agencies for a no-nonsense attack on crime.

This policy is simpler, quicker, less expensive and responsive to public demand for action and public impatience with sociological jargon and "underlying causes." But President Nixon's Urban Affairs Adviser, Daniel P. Moynihan, has stated: "If you want to get rid of crime, get rid of poverty... the correlation is absolute." Beginning on Thursday, April 16, the House Select Committee on Crime will hold hearings in Philadelphia on the relationship between crime and poverty. Philadelphia has its share of poverty, unemployment and racial problems. Yet, unlike most other large metropolitan areas, its crime rate, now 11th in the country, has either declined or remained constant over the past few years. A large, well-trained police force often is cited as the reason.

Milton Eisenhower, as chairman of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, once declared that crime must be attacked at its source - poverty. He estimated that it would take at least $20 billion in federal funds to ameliorate the social conditions conducive to crime as well as to strengthen law enforcement agencies. But heavy spending on the Viet Nam war and an administration bent on curbing inflation make such a commitment unlikely anytime soon.

It was once said that the two nights a certain man lay in his coffin in his home were the first full nights he had spent there in ten years.

A chronic sportsman was disappointed to discover that his former hunting guide had switched to the fishing art.

"What have you got against hunters?" asked the sportsman.

The guide pondered for a moment, and replied, "Nothing. I even like 'em."

"Then why did you quit hunting and go to fishing? Do fishermen pay more for the same amount of time?"

"Nope," replied the guide, "they pay less."

"Then why did you change?"

"Because," said the guide, "no rod and reel addict ever mistook me for a fish."

STATISTICS

55,300 deaths (a 5% increase over 1967) - (9,600 were pedestrians)

4,400,000 injuries (200,000 more than 1967) - (277,000 were pedestrians)

Accidents involving speed resulted in more than 800,000 casualties

One third of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were under 25 years of age

40% of the deaths and 33% of the injuries occurred on Saturday and Sunday

8.6% of the accidents occurred between 1 to 6 a.m. and 4 to 5 p.m.

(1968 was an ugly year for Americans. Tragedy of spectacular magnitude became a frequent front-page occurrence. It was "quiet" only because it was not concentrated in a single place at a single time. The economic loss, about $13.5 billion, was an appalling waste. "Reasonable" people is a key phrase. Drunks are not reasonable people. Neither are people who flirt with alcohol, insisting that "a couple of cocktails" or "a few beers" don't make them dangerous drivers. Speedsters and other reckless drivers are not reasonable people).

The latest edition of the International Directory of Genetic Services, published by The National Foundation - March of Dimes, lists 566 service units - an almost 50 per cent increase over the 1968 edition.

NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you are fair-complexioned and want to avoid premature skin-aging, stay out of the sun's glare - particularly between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. - even though you are young. This is the recommendation of a University of Pennsylvania medical investigator who found that sun exposure significantly damaged the skins of 80 per cent of youths between 10 and 20 years old.

Slowly the world shows signs of growing more humane. For example, in Costa Rica laws prohibit the working of horses, mules and oxen more than 48 hours a week.

This compares ironically to the praise given by humanitarian novelist Charles Dickens in the last century to textile mill operators in Lowell, Mass., for providing free instruction in music and other feminine accomplishments to their girl employees. But the girls worked from five in the morning till seven at night.

Do you wear contact lenses? Then it's a good idea to wear also a medical identification bracelet saying so. Should you lie unconscious for hours after an accident, the lenses can seriously injure the cornea.

Teen-age precocity: The 49th state flag - Alaska - was designed by a 13-year-old orphan, Benny Benson.

Quotable notables: "About a third of my cases are suffering from no clinically definable neurosis, but from the senselessness and emptiness of their lives." - Dr. Carl Jung.

Why doesn't man have a tail? Aristotle, the Greek father of science, explained it was because nature thought man deserved a soft cushion to sit on. He also observed that man has larger feet in proportion to his size than any other animal. He explained the fact that man has more hair on his front and forelegs because of nature's desire to protect the most exposed parts.

Know your language: Our phrase "forlorn hope" results from a slight mistranslation of the Dutch term "verloren hoop," which means "lost troop" not "lost hope." It referred to a group of soldiers given a desperate mission likely to result in all their deaths.

Folklore: Skunk grease will cure lameness. Further bad luck will follow unless the clogs in a home are stopped when a member of the family dies. To prevent a bad dream from coming true tell it to someone after - but not before - breakfast. A tingling left ear means someone is speaking ill of you, but if you pinch the ear that person will bite his tongue.

LOVE THOSE RESIDUALS
That Swedish blonde, Gunilla Knutson, who purrs, "Take it off, take it all off," in the shaving commercial, made $40,000 for that sexy little speech.

The consumer may not recall an advertisement which caused him to buy goods or visit a store. Often he is not aware of the fact that his shopping has been caused by advertising.

Buying is not necessarily the result of the impact of a particular advertisement. Much retail business is built on prestige which has accumulated from consistent advertising over a long period of time.

The power of a newspaper publication is recognized when it is brought to focus by something of personal interest to individuals. When material is printed which directly affects the emotions or the pocketbook of the reader he often becomes violently conscious of the power of the press.

Every editor knows of occasions when the public makes known his avid interest in the local newspaper. Everyone reads the newspaper:

When a daughter is married.
When a name is misspelled.
When a son is elected class president.

When a relative is arrested.
When a typographical error prices bacon at 5 cents a pound.
When the birth of a child is announced.

When a divorce is granted.
Or, when a child's name is left out of an honor roll list.

Heaven help the publisher who underestimates the power of his own newspaper and the intensity of its readership when he is careless in handling information of a personal nature.

Although the reader becomes conscious of the power of the press only when it touches him directly, the influence is always there. The same large public which reads wedding and birth announcements also reads and acts on newspaper advertising.

THE SUCCESS FAMILY

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON - Earnest, young Senator Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who raised the issue of Judge Clement Haynsworth's ethical fogfiness, gets a little foggy himself when you ask him who pays the bills for his annual winter vacations on Miami Beach's gold coast.

The records of the swank Hilton Plaza hotel show that the Senator, his wife and 14-year-old son occupied two oceanfront rooms at the height of the winter season, December 25 to January 2, compliments of the management.

Indeed, every winter since he entered the Senate in 1963, the Bayhs have taken a free vacation in the sun, staying at the Hilton Plaza or Eden Roc, both winter hangouts for the mink-and-sable crowd.

The Hilton Plaza's private records show not only that the clean-cut Hoosier Senator got his $60-a-day rooms free but that the hotel also absorbed the $209 bill he ran up for incidental expenses. These included a number of meals, phone calls, use of the rooftop solarium and a $30 item the Senator says he can't remember picking up at the hotel men's shop.

Yet he is the same Birch Bayh who challenged Haynsworth's ethics, knocked him off the Supreme Court, and then led the Senate fight against his replacement, Judge G. Harrold Carswell. Bayh was supported in both battles by the labor unions, including the powerful Teamsters Union.

TEAMSTERS LINK
It may be merely a coincidence that the Hilton Plaza, perhaps Miami Beach's most fabulous hotel, is mortgaged to the tune of $13 million by the Teamsters Pension Fund.

Asked about his expenses paid vacations, the Senator acknowledged he had been the guest each year of Miklos "Mike" Sperling, a 71-year-old retired Indiana industrialist, whom Bayh called his "political godfather."

"I suppose I have a closer relationship with Mike Sperling," said Bayh, "than I have with anyone outside my family."

The Senator could not explain why the hotel records showed that the management, not Sperling, picked up the tab for history.

"All I know," he said, "is that Mike said come on down and be my guest. It has been the same thing every year. We just sort of have a rendezvous and talk about politics."

Reached by this column in Indianapolis, Sperling said the hotel apparently had put Bayh up for free but had billed him (Sperling) for the Senator's incidental expenses.

"If the Senator's stay was complimentary," said Sperling, "it was complimentary to me."

This was corroborated by Arthur Franza, one of the hotel owners, after he had compared notes with Sperling.

Franza couldn't explain, however, why the hotel's itemized copy of the bill for Bayh's room not only was marked "Comp." meaning complimentary but the additional billing for incidentals was marked "ABP" - indicating it was to be charged to the hotel's advertising, business and promotion account. Normally, an "ABP" bill is written off as a public relations expense.

Before President Nixon announced Admiral Thomas Moore's appointment as the new Joint Chiefs' chairman, White House troubleshooter Clark Mollenhoff quietly began checking into Moore's handling of the controversial Arnharter case.

In 1967, Lt. Cmdr. Marc Arnharter, because of his aggressiveness in Vietnam waters, upset some crew members aboard the picket ship Vance. Too hastily he was given a summary dismissal, which was endorsed up the line of admirals all the way to Moore.

Basis of Rail Safety

One of the first acts of the new Secretary of the Department of Transportation, Mr. John A. Volpe, was to name a Task Force on Railroad Safety. Members of the Task Force include the nation's most highly qualified people from both government and industry on matters relating to transportation. The head of the Association of American Railroads has spoken of them as "the real front-line troops for the major attack" on safety problems and says "the railroad industry is giving this project all possible cooperation."

At the same time, this top spokesman for the rail industry has expressed doubt as to the usefulness of currently proposed railroad safety legislation. As he points out, "Safety can't be legislated. Safety is a matter of equipment, attitudes and behavior," and, "the world's best safety device is still the one located just above and behind the eyebrows."

Another rail official observes that enactment of broad railroad safety legislation would amount to the prescription of a remedy before the disease has been diagnosed.

As has been emphasized time and again, when it comes to railroad safety, no one has a greater interest than the rails themselves. Safety is bread and butter to the railroads. They work at safety all the time and in a century of operation have become recognized as the safest vehicle of transportation ever conceived by the mind of man.

But, as the AAR head noted, weekly rail traffic averages about 250-million passenger-miles and 15-billion freight ton-miles. "When you have that much traffic each week-with countless people involved-you're bound to have safety problems..."

The logical way to achieve a rising curve of rail safety, which is the continuing goal of the industry, is through the efforts to indicate a need, further rail safety legislation should be avoided.

DIMMING FREEDOM'S LIGHT
We seem to live in an age of the decree, the ultimatum and the demand-all aimed at achieving the good life by some sort of shortcut process. When demands and ultimatums fail, senseless civil disorder and destruction have become almost routine. No matter how logical the explanations given for the rise of the idea that brute force is the handmaiden of progress, the fact remains that in practice it never works. The more prevalent force becomes, the more rapidly civilization declines and the good things in life disappear.

Exponents of force usually have a macabre ending-by violence. In modern times, classic examples have been Mussolini and Hitler. There are those who point to the American Revolution as justification for any acts of wanton violence. Such a perverted interpretation of history is a poor excuse for joining the crowd who thinks the ultimate and the right will force open the door to progress and spiritual and material abundance. These things, along with confiscatory taxation, expropriation of property and failure to respect the personal rights of others, dim the light of freedom for everyone.

RENT CONTROLS
Several major cities have recently enacted or are seriously considering rent control laws. The experience of New York City with these laws should deter any such actions.

New York City was the only major metropolis in the nation to retain rent controls after World War II. They are still in effect. It was alleged that rent controls would guarantee low-cost housing to New York residents.

Yet between 1965 and 1968, the city actually had net loss of 31,000 residential housing units. According to the former director of Housing and Development in New York, housing units are being abandoned or demolished approximately twice as fast as new units are constructed to replace them.

Dr. Frank Kristof, a former city housing official, blamed rent control for this loss. He pointed out the "loss of standard, good-quality housing built in the '20s in fairly good neighborhoods" had occurred "because their owners could not afford to properly maintain their properties because of low controlled rents."

Taxes and costs for owners of apartment houses have increased rapidly. Unable to increase rents proportionately, many have gone out of the housing business.

In addition, potential new construction is deterred because investors know that they will not be able to make a profit on New York apartments. During the first six months of 1969 in New York City, permits were requested for only 2,052 new dwelling units, compared to approximately 20,000 in a comparable period in 1962. If the Lindsay administration wishes to improve the housing situation in New York, it should begin by eliminating rent controls. HLH

Drunked dollar: multibillion auto industry and the United dollar raises pricing U.S. out of Auto Workers' massive convention. The delegates are

Washington, D.C.: - Those militant, About 40 per cent are Marine fly lo. And there pilots young - with less than five or six are wild about a tight little plane years seniority in the plants. But called the Harrier. It takes off they want front-end cash - that vertically, picks up full speed is, a big raise in the first year of and comes in for short the new contract to be landings. For tactical support it's negotiated in September. They a dream-flying gun ship. But it doesn't appear to react to reports costs money.

At the moment, a unemployment or word that the congressional committee has workless are concentrated in approved the construction of 12 Detroit. Or that beginning in Harrier - In Britain. Then the word was that after the dozen is importing more cars than it the flying miracle must be exports.

And Walter Reuther, a wily veteran negotiator, knows he has problems, so he talks of his $126 million strike fund - and of negotiating not with today's recession as a base but tomorrow's prosperity. He - and brother Victor - of all people know the dangers of imports. But the tumult goes on.

It's the fashion. The big steel union, led by the quiet man, I.W. (Abe) Abel, is sailing an uneasy ship through a howling economic storm between Scylla and Charybdis. Already foreign imports have hit American Bridge Division of the U.S. Steel Corp., which has had to shut some facilities. Virtually no one has reported this - but the government has begun paying subsidies to 650 steelworkers laid off because of foreign competition. This is the first time such checks have gone out from a special fund created by Congress under the Trade Expansion Act. These are called "adjustment allowance payments" to workers who can prove they lost their jobs because of foreign competition.

This money spouting from the special fund pays each man 65 per cent of the average weekly manufacturing wage or the worker's average weekly wage for the previous year - for a full year and perhaps for a year and a half.

This is just a warning. Like a sharp pain in the stomach. Yet in conference after conference these months, rank-and-file leaders of the United Steelworkers pound the table for heavy demands on the steel industry next year.

Meanwhile there are reports of sharp job losses in factories making electronics, shoes, glass, pottery, textiles, shirts, men's suits and women's dresses - everything including pianos. Few realize that some 60 per cent of black and white TV sets and 17 per cent of color TV sets sold in the U.S. were made abroad. Virtually all transistors are produced abroad.

No one is asking anyone to cut back to the rice bowl to compete with the 15 cent-an-hour Hong Kong rate. But demands for wage increases ranging from $100 to $240 a week - and I mean increases - soon will price this nation right off the earth. We'll have to take to the storm cellars or those moon rocks.

Then someone adds that when you finally "cost" out the full agreement at the end of the contract in 1973 the tab will run close to four, perhaps, five billion dollars.

And then we come upon the

Ann Landers Smashing Wedding Cake Against Bride's Face is Tradition says Groom

Dear Ann Landers: We just returned from a wedding which has left us shattered. If we had not seen it with our own eyes we would not have believed it. The bride, a charming young woman, looked heavenly in her satin gown and ivory lace veil. The ceremony and reception was the most elegant this town has seen in years.

At cake-cutting time the guests gathered around the beaming couple. A photographer was on hand to capture the beautiful moment. To the astonishment of everyone in the place, the groom took the first piece of cake and, instead of sharing it with his beloved, he plastered it against her face — completely covering her hair, eyes and nose with white, sticky frosting.

The groom then announced, "That's for good luck — a tradition where I come from." The bride fled from the room half laughing, half crying. Her mother ran after her. In a few moments they both returned. Nothing was said. This certainly spoiled the wedding for me and for everyone else. I have never heard of the "custom" before. Have you? — Shocked

Dear Shocked: The groom said it was good luck tradition where he came from? A Mack Sennet Comedy? I've never heard of plastering the bride's face with wedding cake. The bride is going to need all the good luck she can get. I think she married a nut.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell the 16-year-old who wanted to be treated like a lady not to be so hard on the boys. It's hard to tell these days what females want.

Most of them are clamoring for equal pay and equal opportunity. They demand a place in men's military academies, colleges, dorms, locker rooms, sports, business and industry. They dress like men, talk like men, drink like men and light up cigars in public dining rooms.

I had to laugh when the girl described how the boy pushed her out of his way at the bus stop and got on first. He probably learned that shoving technique from watching his mother at a sales counter in a department store. Women can be ever so much cruder than men and somehow it looks twice as bad because they are women. — An Observer

Dear Ob: Manners know no gender. There's no excuse for shoving people around, male or female. But here's one thing you can count on in this ever-changing world; the battle between the sexes will never be won because there's too much fraternization with the "enemy."

Confidential to A True-Blue Friend: Stop being so "friendly" or You'll wind up paying her bills again, Dummy.

Confidential to Those Who Talk Jewish: I don't know anyone who "talks Jewish." There is no such language. Do you mean Yiddish or Hebrew? These are two separate and distinct languages. Some Jews can speak both. Some speak neither.

IF you have trouble getting along with your parents... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ALL-IN-ONE-SPAGHETTI SKILLET may well be the easiest homemade spaghetti you ever fixed.

Here's a spaghetti recipe dear to the hearts of busy moms. All the cooking is done in one skillet — even the pasta itself cooks right along with the meat.

If you're a homemaker who thinks no supper should take more than a half hour or so to prepare, then this recipe is certainly geared to your preference. Cover broken spaghetti with boiling water. This step not only somewhat softens the spaghetti so you can be sure it will cook in the meat sauce, but it also helps get rid of excess starch which would give the finished dish rather cloying flavor and texture. Choose thin spaghetti (sometimes called vermicelli) if your grocery store has it.

While the spaghetti soaks, make a basic meat and tomato sauce. We used canned tomato sauce with tomato bits for the sauce because it's a combination of both velvety tomato sauce and pieces of juicy tomatoes. Stir in the presoaked spaghetti and simmer briefly. Just before serving, stir cheese cubes into the spaghetti.

While the spaghetti simmers, heat some rolls and cut a small, chilled head of iceberg lettuce into wedges. Dress the lettuce with thousand island or blue cheese dressing. For dessert top chilled cling peach halves with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

All-In-One Spaghetti Skillet
8 ounces thin spaghetti, broken in 2-inch lengths
Water
1 pound ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
2 cans (8 ounces each) OR 1 can (16 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon basil
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 cup diced processed American cheese
Place spaghetti in bowl and cover with boiling water, let stand about 10 minutes.

'Finian's Rainbow' This Weekend

By THEDAMAY CLEEK
The jongs have bloomed, the snow has gone (in that order) and Sikeston Little Theatre is shaping up its musical. This is a sure sign of spring!

This year the group is happy to bring to its audience that great Broadway hit, "Finian's Rainbow". Fantasy, reality, Irish folklore, romance and marvelous music have made this one of the best liked musicals in the history of the American musical theatre.

The versatile Joe Black, as "Finian", shares the spotlight with Debbie Collins who portrays his daughter, "Sharon McLonergan". This young lady, who recently won honors for her singing talent, not only looks like but sounds like a true Irish colleen. Romance is supplied when "Woody Mahoney", played by Bob Williamson, falls in love with "Sharon". There is a time of confusion when "Og", the leprechaun, begins to turn into a mortal man. This provocative imp, portrayed by Tommy Jobe, cannot decide if he is in love with "Sharon" or the beautiful deaf-mute, "Susan Mahoney", played by Peggy McMullin. "Susan" is only able to communicate her thoughts and feelings through her dancing which is interpreted by her friend, "Henry", very ably played by Freddie Warren. Freddie has a friend, "Howard", played by Larry Johnson, a college student, trying to make some extra money as a part time butler. His reaction to a very exciting situation is very well done.

There is, of course, a villain, "Senator Billboard Rawkins", a loud-mouthed racist portrayed by W. G. Funk, and her family, by Don Stephens. "Rawkins" tries to rob "Finian" and his sharecroppers of their suddenly valuable land. The sharecroppers Mrs. William Corrigan, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jarvis, J. T. Patmor and Charlie Blanton.

valley, are played by such perennial favorites as Vivian and Rosalie Boyer, Dan Hazel, who plays "Sunny", a blind musician, Lind Litchford, Barbara Cantrell, Jo Ann Williamson, Arnetta Gardner, Patty Bush, Lillie Beach and Georgia Gardner. Children of the sharecroppers are Chris Gardner, Lisa Terrell, Kenny Morris, Sondra Beach and Samuel Beach, twins.

The "Sheriff", Jim Denbow is constantly pressured by "Buzz Collins", played by Mike Long who is a stooge for the "Senator". The "Sheriff's" unpopularity is aided and abetted by his "Deputies", Jamie Terrell, Lee Crites and Nathan Kerr.

The firm of "Sheares and Robust" is represented by Jim Terrell as "Sheares" and Francis Schumacher as "Robust". Two "Tourists" Jim Taylor and Barbara Brown are witnesses to the stake for being a witch. Of course she is saved by one of three wishes that are granted to a person standing above the buried gold. WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:

The investment behind it

Each year the drug industry invests millions of dollars in research to support the nearly one billion prescriptions filled yearly by pharmacists throughout the country. This investment results in new "wonder drugs" which let us live our lives longer, healthier. Of the 300 million dollars invested last year more than 150 million dollars went for quality control research. Improved precision measuring and compounding instruments were developed to make even more certain you receive exactly what your doctor prescribes. And the investment also went for developing improved methods of production. As the methods of manufacturing improve, the price of the bulk drug decreases. This saving is passed on to you in lower prescription prices. The "gold pill" of yesterday is purchased today for a nominal amount. Thus, a conscientious, developing industry works to improve the service and quality of the pharmaceuticals you receive today and tomorrow.

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to

Royals Work Overtime; Rain Delays Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kansas City Royals worked overtime-13 innings-to down the California Angels 4-1 while the St. Louis Cardinals got a rain-enforced vacation at Pittsburgh in major league baseball Sunday.

The Royals' tie-breaking run came on a bases-loaded passed ball. The Amos Otis doubled and Bob Oliver singled to clinch the American League victory. Jim Rooker, who relieved Dick Drago after nine innings, took the victory, his first against no defeats this season. Mel Queen, 0-1, was tagged with the setback for California.

The Royals travel up the West Coast for a game tonight against Oakland. Kansas City will pitch Bill Butler, 2-0, against John "Bleu Moon" Odom, 2-1, for the Athletics.

The Redbirds have another day off today—this time the National League club doesn't have a game scheduled.

Rain also took its toll in both leagues as six games were washed out in all.

In other American League action, the New York Yankees divided a doubleheader with Baltimore, winning the nightcap 8-5 after a 4-3 setback, and Minnesota downed Oakland 6-3. Bad weather in the Midwest forced postponement of the Chicago-Milwaukee and Washington-Cleveland twin bills and the Boston-Detroit game.

Horace Clarke ripped five of New York's 17 hits in the nightcap at Baltimore and the Yanks withstood ninth inning homers by Andy Etchebarren and Chico Salmon. Pete Ward's two-run triple was the Yanks' only extra base hit.

Mike Cuellar flipped a four-hitter in the first game and Dave Johnson drove in three Baltimore runs with a homer and a single.

Brant Alyea delivered four runs for the Twins at Oakland with a double and his fourth homer. Jim Perry checked the A's on six hits on the way to his third victory without a loss. Reggie Jackson homered for the losers.

When do you like your no-hitters broken up—early or late?

The National League had them both ways Sunday-Wayne Japan, knocked out Lion San, Simpson losing his chance in the first inning and Tom Griffin letting the suspense build a bit before losing in the seventh.

Simpson, Cincinnati's sensation rookie, one-hit San Francisco 6-0 Sunday while Houston's Griffin handcuffed San Diego on one hit, 5-1.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles battered Atlanta 10-1 with the game enlivened by a short fist fight between Larry Jaster of the Braves and Willie Davis of the Dodgers, and Philadelphia split a doubleheader with New York, winning 3-2 in 10 innings before losing 10-2. Montreal at Chicago and St. Louis at Pittsburgh were both postponed by rain.

Simpson, who has created quite a stir with two shutouts and three straight victories, lost a two out first

inning double to Ken Henderson

and nothing else. He struck out nine but experienced some control problems, walking seven.

Ten days ago, in his major league debut, the 21-year-old right-hander shut out the Dodgers on two hits and in 25 innings pitched, he has allowed just one run.

Simpson got all the offensive support he needed from Tony Perez, who drove in four runs with two singles and his sixth homer of the young season.

Houston's Griffin gave up a first inning run to San Diego on a walk, a stolen base and two ground outs, and then held the Padres hitless until Clarence Gaston doubled with one out in the seventh. Ironically, Gaston surrendered a two out first

inning double to Ken Henderson

and nothing else. He struck out nine but experienced some control problems, walking seven.

Bulldog Athletes Set For Another Big Week

The Sikeston High School baseball, track, and golf squads all move into another week of stiff competition. Last week proved to be one which recorded mixed success for the Bulldogs. The gold team wound up with two victories, the baseball squad with a win and a loss, while the track team took a second and a sixth place finish in two track meets.

Coach Gene Dawson's golfers continued in their successful season by recording dual wins last week. Kennett was the first team to fall to the Dogs, as they were handed a 157-179 defeat. Caruthersville became the next victim of the golfers in a 155-167 battle. This week the golfers face another stiff schedule of competition, as they face three matches. The first, moved from this afternoon to Tuesday because of the heavy rain through the weekend, has the Central Tigers meeting the Dogs on their home course. Through the past years the Central-Sikeston golf match has always been the Dog's closest match, and this year will probably prove to be no exception. Thursday the Sikeston squad will travel to Caruthersville to face a squad who they have already defeated last week. Friday the golfers will conclude their week with a match with Perryville scheduled here on the Sikeston Country Club's course.

Coach N. P. McDaniels' nine will face a week of competition matching them against Charleston and Cape Central. Last week the Dogs fell to Paducah Tilgham in a free scoring contest that ended in the Kentuckians favor 15-8. Rebounding from the disappointing loss, the Bulldogs then came through with a 5-0 shut out victory over the North Pemisat Mustangs on the following night. The Charleston Bluejays will be the Bulldogs first match, scheduled for this afternoon, but the game rests upon whether or not the field will be in condition for play. The Dogs will then travel to Cape Friday afternoon in one of Sikeston's few out-of-town games.

The Sikeston thincads will move into a week of only one scheduled event. Coach Bill Friday's runners will venture into Poplar Bluff for the Mules first Relay track meet. In the meet, events will be run off relay style, with a team effort necessary for a high finish. Last week the Dogs traveled to Charleston and finished second behind the Jays in the Scott-Miss. County Track Meet. Friday the Sikeston Runners traveled to Kennett in the Conference meet, and recorded a sixth place finish. In that meet, Charleston, Cape, and Poplar Bluff took the three top honors.

Non-Mechanized Areas Established

JEFFERSON CITY — Turkey hunters with two good legs and the desire to use them will have two areas of the Clark National Forest where they can be sure they won't suffer from motorized meddling this season.

Two walk-in areas are being established by the U. S. Forest Service and Missouri Department of Conservation in Iron County. One, known as the Bell Mountain area, is about six square miles and the other, known locally as the Peter Cave Hollow area is about 12 square miles.

Most roads into the two areas will be closed, including fire access and logging trails; however, surfaced roads will not be closed. Closed roads will be plainly marked.

Turkey hunters have complained in the past that brush country vehicles have spoiled their hunting, either by spooking turkey gobblers into silence or by being just plain noisy in a basically quiet and peaceful surrounding.

New Striped Bass Record

GAINESVILLE — Missouri has a new striped bass record and, though it was caught on April 1, it's no fooling. The fish weighed five pounds, 12 ounces.

T. J. Robbins Jr. of Gainesville caught the record fish on a minnow in the Massey Creek area of Lake Norfolk. He had Bill Bailey, Ozark County conservation agent, authenticate the weight and species.

A qualified Department employee must verify record fish before the Department will recognize them as a new record. There was a 19 pound striped bass caught in the Mississippi earlier this year, but it never has been submitted for a record.

Striped bass have been stocked for three years in Lake of the Ozarks by the Missouri Department of Conservation. The Norfolk Lake striper is compliments of the Arkansas Game and Fish Department, which stocked them in its end of the big impoundment.

The striped bass is an ocean fish which adapted to freshwater life in Santee-Cooper Reservoirs in South Carolina and which, since, has been stocked in several other large reservoirs. The fish grow to 56 or more pounds.

Reed's Five Firsts Anchors CHS Title

If track had its grand slam or perfect game, Charleston's Wade Reed would have recorded one Friday night at Kennett, as the Charleston star took five first place finishes and anchored the Bluejays' 78 point conference win. Cape Central finished a second and a third, while Johnson took a third and a fourth. The Tiger's Gereke finished second in the 88 yd. run, and fourth in the 440 yd. run. A first place finish of 3:35 was recorded by the Cape Mile Relay team, and their 880 yd relay squad took a second place finish behind Charleston.

Kennett's Walpole and Buster finished second and fifth in the mile run, while Jefferson led the field in the 440 yd dash with a 52.1 Collins took a first in the Daughette added to the total with a second in the high jump. Campbell a first in the shot put, while teammate Howard followed in the third position. Moore chalked up another first place finish for the Jays in the 100 yd dash with a 10.4 finish. Both the two mile and mile relay squads of Charleston recorded second place finishes, while their 880 yd. relay team captured a 1:34.7 first place trophy.

For Cape Central, Mason recorded a second in the triple jump, a fourth in the long jump, and a third in the low hurdles. Cape's pole vaulters Stafford and Lee took second and third behind Kennett's Collins, who won the event at a height of 12 feet and 11 inches. In the Shot and Discus throw, Niswonger recorded a second and a third, while Johnson took a third and a fourth. The Tiger's Gereke finished second in the 88 yd. run, and fourth in the 440 yd. run. be subpoenaed before a grand jury to answer questions not regularly afforded law enforcement officials.

Another possibility that exists when a grand jury makes an investigation is immunity can be granted individuals believed involved in a crime if that person will disclose all knowledge he knows pertaining to the crime in question. If immunity is granted, and the person still refuses to give testimony, there is a possibility the person could be found in contempt.

There is a theory in law practice that when a prosecutor has a case that he is unsure about filing warrants in regular criminal court, a grand jury can assist in determining whether the case should be tried as a result of testimony afforded the grand jury.

When contacted about these possibilities, Gilmore said further action, which could include calling a grand jury, would follow completion of the 1969 audit. A grand jury was called about one year ago in Scott county before the audit completion for years 1965, 66, 67, and 68, and the reported armed robbery of Dec. 8.

Bardgett to Fill Supreme Court Post

CHARLESTON, Mo. (AP) - Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Saturday, appointed Circuit Judge John E. Bardgett, 43, of Creve Coeur to the Missouri Supreme Court succeeding the late Judge Clem F. Storckman.

Bardgett has been a St. Louis county circuit judge since his appointment by Hearnes to the bench, Sept. 6, 1968. He formerly was city attorney for Normandy and a former member of the Board of Governors of the Missouri Bar Association.

He was one of three nominees submitted to the governor by the Appellate Judicial Commission meeting in St. Louis. The others were Circuit Judge Robert G. J. Hoester, of Kirkwood, and John M. Goodwin, a St. Louis lawyer.

The Supreme Court has been without a St. Louis area judge since Judge Storckman's death last month.

Bardgett lives at 465 Fourwinn Dr., in Creve Coeur. He was born April 28, 1927, and was educated in St. Louis parochial schools and St. Louis University where he got his law degree in 1951. Before being appointed a circuit judge he was a member of the law firm of Haley, Bardgett and Williamson in St. Louis. He formerly was president of the Missouri Association of Trial Attorneys and an instructor in the St. Louis University Law School.

He is a Navy veteran and a member of Our Lady of the Pillar Catholic Church. He is married and the father of two sons and two daughters.

The council approved the erecting of stop signs at these intersections: Commercial Street at Thirteenth Street; Naomi St. at Sixth; Cleveland St. at Main and Tenth Street at State Street. The council also decided not to place a stop sign on Cleveland at Haggie Street.

No parking signs will be placed on Ninth Street from Marshall to Rodney Street; North Virginia from State to Railroad to allow the fire truck room to go down the street.

The council suggested to Manager Martin that a central location be found for farmers and people who need large volumes of water. The fire hydrant across from the fire station will be used for this purpose and persons getting the water will be charged meter rates of $1.50 for 500 gallons; $2.50 for 1,000 gallons and 5 cents per 100 gallons for all over 1,000 gallons.

In other action, the council approved a motion made by Sam Story that the city approve the Chamber of Commerce Community Betterment Committee request to make improvements to city parks. The improvements must meet certain specifications, approved by the council.

The council approved a motion made by Story that the city underwrite the cost of preparing an application for surveying and planning, to be submitted to the Urban Renewal Board, not to exceed $2,000.

Councilman Yates moved that the city submit to E.D.A. an application for the erecting of a water tank at the city's industrial site. Motion was approved by the council.

City Attorney Banta was instructed to investigate city registration.

Resolutions amending the zoning regulation of the city and changing the fee for building permits were read and adopted. Also adopted was the resolution directing the vacating and abandoning of a strip of land 19.1 feet wide off the east side of lot 3, block 2 of Danforth's Addition as a street or alley.

City Manager Martin proposed the city enter into a contract with Modern Office Methods for a maintenance agreement on the 3M Photocopier at $130 per year.

11 Hurt in Two-Car Crash Near Qulin

A two-car accident Saturday at 10:50 a.m. on highway 53, two miles north of Qulin, sent 11 to Poplar Bluff hospitals.

A 1968 Chevrolet, driven by Michael D. Hopkins, 18, Qulin, ran off the road, struck a bridge railing, then went crossways in the road, and struck boardside by a 1957 Chevrolet stationwagon, driven by Sandra Michelle Ethridge, 21, of St. Louis.

Injured in the Hopkins car, Joyce Bacus, 17, minor injuries; Rhonda Heffner, 18, minor injuries, and Beverly Melton, 17, possible internal injuries, all were from Qulin and first two taken to Lucy Lee, and third to Doctors hospital.

Johnny Howe, 16, Broseley, minor injuries, and the driver with cuts on forehead; all were taken to Doctors hospital.

Injured in the Ethridge car, the driver received a leg injury; and passengers, Raymond Ethridge, 22, cuts and bruises; Kenneth Ethridge, 19, possible back injury; Bonnie Ethridge, 18, minor, and Rebecca Ethridge, 2, minor injuries. The last three were from St. Louis, and all were taken to Poplar Bluff hospital.

Four were taken to Farmington hospital, result of an accident Saturday at 4:20 p.m. on route N, one mile east of Fredericktown.

A 1966 Pontiac, driven by Walter E. Keller, 41, Fredericktown, was coming over a hillcrest, when he lost control, and ran in the path of a 1963 Ford driven by Hughie Mullins, 45, St. Louis.

Keller received cuts on his head, and a passenger, Donna Keller, 7, received a skull fracture.

Mullins received cuts and bruises. Two passengers in his car, Glenda Mullins, 45, cuts on her head, and Vicki Mullins, 13, severe bruises. The last three were from St. Louis, while the Keller family was from Fredericktown.

In an accident Saturday at 7:20 a.m. on I-57, two miles east of Sikeston, a 1969 Pontiac, driven by Geraldine Stallings, 53, Orlando, Fla., struck a sign when she started to turn on the ramp.

She received a broken right leg, and cuts on her face. She was taken to Missouri Delta Community hospital.

An accident Saturday at 1 a.m. two miles south of Hunterville on a gravel road, a 1965 Fairchild driven by Lewis Simms, 19, route one, Essex, said he struck loose gravel, lost control, went into a ditch, and then struck a culvert.

He received multiple cuts on the face and legs, and taken to Dexter Memorial hospital.

He will be given a summons for no operators license.

An accident Sunday at 12:45 a.m. on highway 61, two miles north of Uniontown, Bryon H. Wilson, 23, Perryville, was taken to Perry County Memorial hospital, Perryville with a shoulder injury.

He attempted to pass another car when he lost control, ran off the road and overturned.

Methodist to Study COCU
Union Proposal

ST. LOUIS (AP) - About 1,000 clerical and lay delegates will attend a special session of the United Methodist General Conference starting today. It will be the first church convention to respond to a plan of union proposed recently by Consultation On Church Union (COCU).

The proposal calls for uniting about 25 million members of the nine denominations. The United Methodist Church is the largest protestant body with 11 million members, just behind the 11.4 million-member Southern Baptists.

A number of sensitive church issues will be considered in the weeklong conference, including reordering of church priorities to improve conditions for blacks and other minorities, the Vietnam War, pollution, lowered voting age and greater participation by the young in governing the church.

The conference is the church's chief legislative and policy-making body. It normally meets once each four years but the special meeting was called in part to evaluate the Methodist merger two years ago with the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Rev. Ralph Abernathy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, were speakers for a preconference rally Sunday afternoon.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain, who, on June 7, 1939, crossed over onto American soil from Canada at Niagara Falls, N.Y., were the first reigning British monarchs to visit the United States.

Beasley Sworn in As Charleston Mayor

CHARLESTON - R. W. Beasley, who has served as mayor pro - tem was sworn in as mayor Tuesday night replacing Joseph Layton, who did not seek re-election in last week's city election.

Charles Williams, who was elected to a three-year term on the council, was sworn in.

Following a request by Mrs. Ethel Brothers, the council instructed City Attorney W. Clifton Banta to draw up a resolution to the effect that Elkins Street be paved from the west side of Johnson street to East of Morgan street.

Mayor Beasley appointed R. T. Yates, Sam Story and Charles Williams to the liquor committee. Joseph W. Layton presented a signed petition to the council to move the Charlestonian Package Liquor Store to a building east of the Cotton Boll Lounge and facing Seventh Street in block 43 of Wards unplatted addition. The committee approved the request.

Councilman Story asked City Manager Richard Martin if he had contacted the liquor control board concerning sending an agent to the area to check where minors are purchasing liquor. Martin reported he had not but would do so.

Bids from the following companies were accepted by the council: Ralph Carson Co. awarded contract for insecticide concentrate at $25 per gallon; Stagner Construction awarded contract for leveling city dump for $790; Adams and McCord Painting Co. awarded contract for sandblasting swimming pool for $591.

Streets which will not be paved this Spring are West Byrd from west side of North Elm to East side of North Heggie and from west side of NorthLout to east side of North Elm; Chestnut Ave. from south side of South Street to East side of South Main; North High Street from south side of State to north side of East Commercial.

An ordinance naming city streets to be contracted for paving was read and approved by the council.

The council approved the erecting of stop signs at these intersections: Commercial Street at Thirteenth Street; Naomi St. at Sixth; Cleveland St. at Main and Tenth Street at State Street. The council also decided not to place a stop sign on Cleveland at Haggie Street.

No parking signs will be placed on Ninth Street from Marshall to Rodney Street; North Virginia from State to Railroad to allow the fire truck room to go down the street.

KERSHNER-ROWE
COMMENTARY

Howard Kershner
Edward Rowe

Is Competition Unchristian?
The idea that "Christianity argues against competition" and that "competition is anti-Christian" does not accord with the truth. Taking the New Testament documents as the basic documents of Christianity, one will look in vain for any argument either for or against competition. The fact is that the New Testament documents do not address themselves to the subject. This is not their purpose. The New Testament is not a textbook on economics; it is a textbook on the spiritual life of man, and it concerns itself with spiritual principles which are for the good of man.
These principles are directed to the individual, but that which is for the good of man individually is also for his good socially, inasmuch as society is composed of individuals.

The Roman Empire in which Jesus lived and taught was characterized by a basically free economic system, although taxation was becoming burdensome.
Where you have free enterprise, you have competition in the sense in which economists think of the term. That is, you have multiple producers of a given product or service. For example, there were millions of free farmers in the Roman Empire, and the prices of their products were regulated to a large degree by the market mechanism.
Were they not in competition? Wherever monopoly does not prevail, you certainly have economic competition.

I do not imply that competition is the force that motivates those who operate in the free economy; I simply state that competition, as understood by economists, exists. The more prominent motive would be profit, but again wherever you have the profit motive, you have competition. Wherever you have property owned by individuals, you certainly have competition.
Competition is harmonious with hard work, saving, investment, efficiency, profit, and min-imization of waste. There can be no doubt that these are virtues within the framework of the Christian ethic. The opposite of competition is monopoly and mediocrity.

If You Were the Judge

Bloodhound's Sniff Valid as Evidence

By Jack Strauss, L.L.B.

If Twitchy was nervous to begin with, it didn't compare to the shakes he suffered when a bloodhound nuzzled into his garage and helped put the finger on him. A bank had been held up and the trail led to Twitchy's doorstep.

In court, the bloodhound's handler testified as to the canine's pedigree, training, experience, etc., and then he proceeded to describe the dog's movements up until the time he sniffed out Twitchy in the latter's garage.

"I object," protested Twitchy. "It's not fair. I'm being convicted on the evidence of a dog. And, under the Constitution, a man is entitled to be confronted by his accusers and to cross-examine a dog. All I get from the stool pigeon is barking."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit the sniffings of the bloodhound to be used as evidence against Twitchy?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that the witness against Twitchy was the dog's handler and not the dog. He could testify as to what he saw the dog do and be cross-examined about it. As for the dog, concluded the judge, its sniffing out Twitchy was tantamount to an opinion on the part of the dog that it had sniffed out the right man. And, noted the judge, opinion evidence is not subject to cross-examination. (Based upon a 1969 New York County Court Decision)

Origin of Cigarettes

Many legends have grown around the origin of cigarettes. One is that cigarettes, as we know them today, were first used in 1852 during a battle between Turks and Egyptians. Cigarettes were used by soldiers in the Crimean War of 1856.

Students Take Part In Health Crusade

50 Years Ago
April 20, 1920

The following are the results of the third and fourth grade students, who participated in the local health crusade in the elementary school. Third grade - Miss Helen Hess, teacher; Eighteen pupils washed their hands before each meal; 12 washed face, ears and neck and cleaned fingernails; 15 brushed teeth; 10 took 10 or more deep breaths; and seven have given up coffee and tea.

Third grade - Miss Lydia Chaney, teacher: All children are trying to live up to the rules. Fifty per cent have done eight of the chores each day.

Fourth grade - Miss Leita Lindley, teacher: Since score cards for chores have been given out, 13 wash hands before each meal; 19 remembered to wash neck and ears and clean fingernails; 10 have been brushing teeth since dental examination; 15 have quite drinking coffee and tea; and 22 sleep with windows open.

Fourth grade - Miss Lela Lett, teacher: Five have begun washing hands before meals and cleaning fingernails; 15 are keeping pencils out of mouths; five are brushing teeth; four are sleeping with open windows; seven underweight are drinking milk and trying to eat more wholesome food; and nine are taking baths more often.

John Sikes, founder of the original town of Sikeston, is at rest in a huge stone vault near the north limits of the old town of Winchester, later named Sikeston. The vault was opened recently by two Sikeston men who were curious to know in what manner the founder of the City had been buried. The burial plot is located on property purchased by John A. Matthews, one street south of East Malone avenue. Winchester was located, according to old timers here, near the present site of the Jim Klein homestead in the south part of Sikeston. With the coming of a railroad east and west, the town moved northward and the name was changed to Sikeston.

L.A. Clark, assistant manager of the Buckles Bowling Alley, Sexton building, and William Jones purchased the equipment in the place from Ronald Buckles Wednesday. Clark and Jones started immediately to move the alleys to Cape Girardeau.

Blodgett - The Rev. Crocker from Bernie was here Monday night.

Lyman R. "Jack" Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bowman of this city, surprised his family and friends last Monday night by getting married to Miss Lida Belle Powell, a teacher in the Bertrand School system. The Rev. A.C. Rudloff, pastor of the local Baptist Church, performed the ceremony at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Crozier and family, formerly of Benton, are now making their home in Sikeston, having moved here Tuesday. Mr. Crozier is a dealer in real estate and is the manager of the Sikeston Furniture Exchange. They are located in the 500 block on Gladys street.

Kewanee - Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Chartrou and son, Harold, spent Sunday with Mrs. Chartrou's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cowan of Fredericktown.

The Misses Dimple Patterson and Bernice Conder have been assigned to stonographic work in the city police court office.

Between 25 and 27 men are working daily on construction of the new swimming pool east of the high school building, Herbert Daugherty, superintendent of the project estimated today that the earliest the job could be completed would be in August.

Preliminary work on the installation of the Patrick H. Adams Memorial to Sikeston's men who died in combat in World War II is being completed at the Armory, Mayor Joe Cravens said today. The first foundation slab has been laid and the actual base for the monument is expected to be in place soon.

Mrs. J.W. Broadway announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Janette Bomer, to Bill Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Patterson. Both are Sikeston residents. Definite plans and the wedding date are incomplete.

John Riley Hahn, who has been employed with the Tampa Daily Times in Tampa, Fla., arrived this morning to make his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hahn, Route 1, west, the town moved northward and the name was changed to Sikeston.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burton of Malden at the local hospital on April 18. It's a baby boy for Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Beeson of Sikeston born on the 18th at the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riley are parents of a son born the 18th.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore on the 18th.

The show, to be seen at 5:30 p.m. EST.

Those sensational pictures from the Apollo 13 recovery zone—seen by an estimated 40 million Americans on their lunch hour—came from an 18-pound portable camera aboard one of the recovery helicopters.

The camera was manned by Jim Whaley of KPRC-TV, Houston, Tex., who was aboard the copter with two CBS technicians as part of the pool coverage. It was the first time the Department of Defense allowed a camera aboard a recovery helicopter.

Watching a color monitor in the ABC control room, Walter J. Pfister Jr., executive producer of ABC's space coverage, exclaimed, "Would you look at that color! That's better than we'll get a week from now on film."

The camera was a CBS Minicam Mark 4, first used at the Republican National Convention at Miami Beach in 1968. It has since been used at such events as the Super Bowl and President Nixon's inauguration.

The camera, the first with computerized control of color registration, centering and focusing, is capable of wireless operations by means of a microwave dish attached to the backpack. On the helicopter the microwave dish was mounted beneath the fuselage.

The pictures, relayed back to the carrier two jims, went by Pacific satellite to the ground station at Jamesburg, Calif.

Citizenship Day

In 1952, President Harry S. Truman signed a bill making Sept. 17 annual Citizenship Day, instead of Constitution Day as it had been known before.

Beginning Sunday, May 3, NBC will inaugurate "In Which We Live," the first weekly series devoted entirely to ecology. Edwin Newman will be host of

Strike Halts Ozark Air Line Flights

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ozark Air Lines operations in 60 cities in 15 states were halted Sunday by a walkout of about 430 aircraft and engine mechanics. Working conditions and wages were the prime issues.

Spokesmen for management and the Aircraft Mechanics Fraternal Association said no talks were scheduled.

The association's contract expired Dec. 31, 1968, but mechanics had continued work.

Paul L. Rodgers, vice president of Ozark, said a negotiating session with a federal mediator ended Saturday. The walkout began shortly after 3 a.m. Sunday.

"I thought we were making progress," Rodgers said.

He said Ozark had offered the union a settlement totaling $3 million.

O. V. Dellefemine, a negotiator from union headquarters in New York, said the association is asking for an hourly wage of $6.09, nine cents over the settlement agreed to by North Central Airlines in January. He said Ozark offered $5.74. The current base pay is $4.16 an hour.

Rodgers said members of seven unions honored the mechanics' picket lines. "We had no choice but to shut the airline down," he said.

Ozark, which operates principally in the Midwest, carried 2.3 million passengers last year. Rodgers said the company lost $4 million.

"Something like this is very damaging to us," Rodgers said. "Normally, when you get into April the traffic starts coming back from the winter slump. We're very hopeful the situation can be solved."

Dellefemine said Ozark could have settled for a lower wage "if they had not procrastinated for 16 months."

The union negotiator said the parties were closer on wages than on the issue of work. He said the association wants assurance that airframe maintenance and overhaul done by its members will not be "farmed out" to some other carrier or contractor.

JAYCEE OFFICERS FOR 1970 were installed Saturday night at the Country Club. They are, from left Rick Adams, treasurer; Tom Nunnelee, and Tom Lambert, state directors; John Carpenter, secretary; Dennis Ziegenhorn, second vice president; Roger Titsworth, first vice president, and Gene Yokley, president. They were installed by Shad Old, a former officer of the organization.

Legislators On Break to Mull Budget

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) —

Members of the Missouri House and Senate went home for the weekend Thursday—and some until April 27—to mull over the penny pinching budget Gov. Warren E. Hearnes handed them as the special session opened Wednesday.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee got even greater detail on the administration's view of the state's financial crisis.

John C. Vaughn, state comptroller and budget director, provided the bad news he said was caused by defeat of the income tax revision bill at the hands of the voters April 7.

As the governor said earlier, the state should hold expenditures in the coming fiscal year to about $618 million in general revenue funds, some $20 million less than for this year, Vaughn told the committee.

That is because this time the state won't have the one-shot aid of about $49 million in accelerated tax collections. It will mean, Vaughn said, that the budget can provide state agencies and institutions with about the same money they got this year. But public schools will get about $54 million less than they were promised for the coming year and some $19 million less than they got this year.

The appropriations committee will work all next week on hearing the requests of agency heads and institutional directors before preparing its own version of the budget bills for House action.

The Senate Appropriations Committee plans to do the same thing the following week.

Both houses hope to be in session part of the week

Parma Man Waives Hearing After Fight

NEW MADRID - Paul Miller, 21, Parma, charged with exhibiting a dangerous and deadly weapon, today waived preliminary hearing in magistrate court. He posted $500 bond when Judge Leo Hedgepeth bound him over to circuit court.

Miller, Louis Robertson, 21, Malden, Bobby J. Williams, 33, Imperial, and Felipe Hirscheta, 36, Lavalie, were arrested and charged with peace disturbance Saturday following a fight at the Hut in Parma.

They were each fined $25 and costs in magistrate court today.

Rep. Kenneth Rothman, Clayton, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said he cut out that section before introducing the Missouri version in the House Thursday. It would have permitted search and seizure without a warrant under some circumstances.

Today In U.S. History

Today is Monday, April 20, the 110th day of 1970. There are 255 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, the siege of Boston began in the American Revolution.

On this date:

In 1662, Connecticut was granted a royal charter extending to the Pacific Ocean.

In 1676, Bacon's rebellion broke out in Virginia.

In 1889, Adolf Hitler was born in Austria.

In 1945, in World War II, the U.S. 7th Army captured Nuernberg, Germany.

Ten years ago: Communist China's Premier Chou En-lai was in New Delhi discussing a border dispute between China and India.

Five years ago: Turkey was expelling Greeks as relations between Turkey and Greece deteriorated in the dispute over Cyprus.

One year ago: Armed Negroes ended their seizure of a building at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner" was a lawyer by profession but wrote verse as a hobby.

Foolscap Paper
Originally, foolscap paper was a printing paper used in England. It got its name from the ancient watermark of a fool's head and cap which was used to identify the paper. The foolscap watermark dates back to before the time of Shakespeare.

Sew with Cotton Winners Model Their Garments

The Sew With Cotton winners of Southeast Missouri were presented to a Missouri Cotton Producers Association audience Saturday representing seven counties. Mrs. Dale Geske was narrator.

The girls presented a fashion show modeling their own experience; the junior miss open class; the sportswear class, and the young misses class.

Three winners in each of the six classes, include girls, 10 to 12, junior misses, 13 to 15, the last four classes each without any sewing experience, received $15, $25 and $50 and junior misses 13-15 with awards.

AN OUTSTANDING AWARD went to Charles N. Baker, left, Dunklin county for many years of service to the cotton industry and agriculture. He is the first president of the Missouri Cotton Producers Association.

The plaque was presented by Jack Tipton, Caruthersville, president of the MCPA.

Tony Awards Dominated by First Timers

NEW YORK (AP) — Lauren Bacall said "wow!" and tried to kiss everybody within reach. Cecil Beaton thought it "simply spiffy." Alfred Lunt spoke of "sheer enchantment." And little Melba Moore wept just a bit.

So with jubilation, sentiment and a few surprises Broadway Sunday night awarded its 20th annual Tony awards for "distinguished work in the theater."

The top-winning musical was "Applause" with silver medallions as the best song-and-dance show, for Miss Bacall as the top feminine star, and two to Ron Field for direction and choreography.

Picked as the best drama was "Borstal Boy," based on Brendan Behan's story of his years in a youth reformatory. The play, originally done in Dublin, was written by Frank McMahon, an American.

Cleavon Little of "Purlie" was picked as the best male musical star, with Miss Moore of the same show winning the trophy for supporting actress in musical.

The stellar drama honors went to Tammy Grimes in "Private Lives" and Fritz Weaver of "Child's Play."

The most conspicuous aspect of the selections was the virtual sweep of top honors by first-time nominees. Candidates were chosen by a panel of reviewers and appointed by the League of New York theaters and voted upon by 500 representatives of the theatrical crafts.

For super-radiant Miss Bacall it was the first run ever for any prize.

In addition to her, Little, Miss Moore, Miss Grimes and Weaver, performers who copped Tonys for the first time were Blythe Danner, supporting dramatic actress in "Butterflies Are Free," and Ken Howard, supporting actor in "Child's Play."

Field won in his first directing assignment, while Joseph Hardy on his initial nomination won as a drama stager with "Child's Play."

Veteran talents weren't totally routed in the 16 competitive categories. Among them were Betty Comden and Adolph Green, authors of "Applause," Charles Strouse and

Lee Adams, composer and lyricist of the same show; Cecil Beaton, costumer of "Coco," and Jo Mielziner, with two medallions for scenic design and lighting of "Child's Play."

The biggest name competition was between Miss Bacall and Katharine Hepburn, star of the musical "Coco," whose participation in the program was taped for the NBC network telecast in advance. Miss Hepburn did not attend the star-studded ritual at the Hellinger Theater.

In addition to the competition awards, special citations were awarded. Two of them—to Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, another to Sir Noel Coward—evoked the warmest ovations of the evening. Barbara Streisand was honored as "performer of the decade," and another award went to Joseph Papp, founder of New York's "Applause," Charles Strouse and
